Christmas Parcels To Service Men Overseas Should Be Mailed Early

Post Office Department Asks That Parcels To Service Men Overseas Be Mailed Between October 1st And Nov. 1st To Assure Delivery By Christmas—Instructions Given As To Weight, Size And Type of Package

Postmaster Leo G. Ford, has requested that we bring to the attention of the people in our county who desire to mail Christmas packages to the boys who are serving in our armed forces outside of continental United States, that these packages should be mailed during the period beginning October 1st and ending November 1st, and that it is far better to mail them as early as possible.

Each package should be marked "Christmas Parcel" and special efforts will be made by the Post Office Department to effect delivery of all Christmas parcels mailed during that period in time for Christmas.

We are urged to limit the size of our parcels. Under no condition shall the weight of a parcel exceed eleven pounds in weight, or 18 inches in length or 42 inches in length and girth combined. However, we are asked to voluntarily restrict the size of Christmas parcels to that of an ordinary shoe box and limit the weight to six pounds.

The need of shipping space in the transporting of materials directly essential to the war effort necessitates cutting down of the sizes of all parcels, and of course we are certain that the people in this county will be governed accordingly and will try to limit the size of their packages.

Not more than one Christmas parcel per package will be accepted for mailing in any one week when sent by or on behalf of the same person or concern to or for the same addressee.

Owing to the great distance this mail must be transported, and the handling and storage it must undergo, it is absolutely necessary that all articles be packed in substantial boxes or containers and be covered with wrappings of sufficient strength, not only to resist pressure of other mail in the same sack, but to withstand the weight of other sacks of mail which may be piled thereon.

We are also asked to call your attention to the fact that all parcels are subject to censorship, and that delays may be avoided by securing the covering of the parcel so as to permit ready inspection of the contents.

Under no condition should perishable matter be included in any package.

It is prohibited to mail intoxicants, inflammable materials, poisons and compositions which may kill or injure anyone.

All addresses must be legible. Parcels addressed to overseas armed personnel should show, in addition to the name and address of the sender, the name, rank, the army serial number, the branch of service, the organization, the A. P. O. number of the addressee, and the postoffice by which the parcel is to be routed.

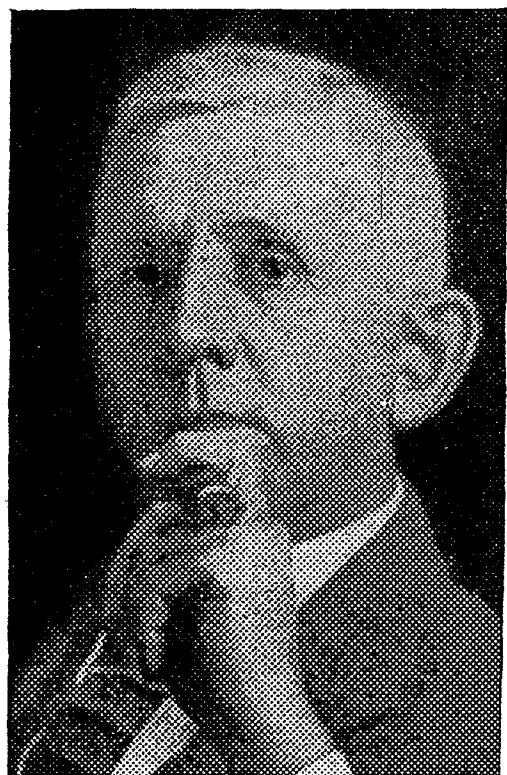

Parcels for naval personnel should show, in addition to the name, and address of the sender, the name and rank, or rating of the addressee and the naval unit to which he is assigned, or the name of the ship or the post office through which the parcel is to be routed.

Parcels for members of the United States Marine Corps should show the rank, the rating, the full name and the United States Marine Corps unit number, the addressee to insert the appropriate number care of the postmaster in either New York or San Francisco, as instructed by the correspondent.

All mail should be insured if it is of more than ordinary value. However, it is suggested that articles of considerable value, especially those of small size should be selected and sent as first class registered mail.

The Post Office Department has asked that the postmaster recommend to the public the use of postal money orders to transmit gifts of money to members of the armed forces outside the United States. In many places where our forces are stationed, there is a local prohibition of the importation of United States money and it could not be used if received. Postal money orders can be cashed at army post-offices where they are located and they are paid in local foreign currency at the rate of exchange in effect on the date the money orders are presented.

RETIREES

MR. HARRY S. POND

Mr. Harry S. Pond is taking life easy at his South Beach home here. The 77 year old former Vice president of the firm of Woodward Wight and Co., Ltd., of New Orleans retired on his birthday, August 28th, after an enviable business career, having been with the above firm for 60 years.

Born at Chatawa, Miss., August 28, 1865, Mr. Pond claims New Orleans as his home having come there with his parents, Major and Mrs. Byron M. Pond, when quite young. His father a major during the Civil War was stationed at Chatawa.

When seen here today, Mr. Pond seemed pleased to talk but showed signs of not quite being adjusted to a life of leisure. "I entered the business world rather early in life," Mr. Pond said while the flicker of a smile showed on his kindly face.

"When eleven years of age, I took my first job with the firm of J. M. Lewis and Company with which my father was connected. Doubtless my father thought this a safe way for me to spend my vacation because I would be out of mischief and bad company." When school opened, he was not interested in going back to school and was given the choice to returning to school or continuing work and attending night school. "Having had a taste of business," Mr. Pond said, (and again a smile) "and drawing the magnificent salary of $5 per month, I chose the latter." He went to Soule's night school for boys where he continued for five years.

His next venture after the closing of the J. M. Lewis firm was with the N. R. J. Tobacco Company as messenger and collector. This position he held until 1882 when the firm went out of business. He then entered Leshe's Commercial School and while there Mr. Pearl Wight offered him a position with the firm of Woodward Wight.

After serving in several capacities there he went on the road in 1887 and travelled for the firm 31 years. Upon the death of the secretary, Mr. Rogers, Mr. Pond was made a director and vice president in which capacity he served until his retirement.

Mr. Pond has been coming to Waveland and Bay St. Louis since a boy and recalls his experience in the storm of 1893 when he attempted to get from New Orleans to Waveland where his parents had their summer home. But, which seems to be characteristic of him through life, he overcame all obstacles and finally arrived at Waveland.

He purchased the present home in 1898 and here he and Mrs. Pond, the former Miss Jane Cushman of Houston, Texas, and Mrs. Pond's sister, Mrs. Russell Caffery, expect to spend their remaining years.

He expressed his preference for Bay St. Louis to other Coast points, without reservation and said no matter, Mrs. Russell Caffery, expect to location he always came back to this home.

He ridiculed the idea of having a hobby and said how could a man who daily caught a 7-15 train to New Orleans and returned late in the afternoon have time for hobbies. But he is interested in a victory garden and flowers and enjoys the view of the broad expanse of water from his front porch. And this I learned from Mrs. Pond that he is a champion pinhead player.

The Ponds have two sons, Lieutenant Harry Pond II, who is with the Port of Embarkation at New Orleans and Russell Caffery Pond with

COUNTY SALVAGE COMMITTEE

113 Tons of Scrap Metals And Additional 7 Tons Of Rubber Collected To Date

Our salvage for Victory campaign is moving rapidly in Hancock County and everywhere in the State. Word reaches us from Jackson indicating that Mississippi is among the leading States if not the leading State in the collection of scrap metals. This is the usual Hancock County spirit—lets keep it up.

It is interesting to note the unusual and interesting kind of scrap that comes out of attics, basements, dump pits and other forgotten places. These articles include Army field guns, German machine gun, used in the last war, old vintage automobiles, stoves, toys, parts of old bridges, marine engines, out-board motors and a cream separator originally shipped here from North Dakota and found its way into our scrap pile.

Very good work was done in the city last week by our local working collector Fred Banderet and his crew. Likewise the two County trucks manned by Schwall Capdepon and their crews are right on the job and piling up large quantities at the L. & N. yards.

In the County Willie Lee at Lee-town is sending us many cards showing where scrap is ready for collection and Milton Staufflet at Ansley is personally bringing in some good loads of farm cast iron from his community.

We should all bear in mind that this very important salvage program is not a one man job or a committee job—it is a job for every person in the County to help collect this scrap, place it where trucks can get it with the least possible delay. Think, plan and act on this scrap drive—it may save many lives somewhere.

Students Going Off To College Must Have Sugar Rationing Book

Major W. E. Holcomb, State Director of the Office of Price Administration, calls the attention of all students who are leaving home to go to boarding schools and colleges to the requirement that they must take their sugar coupon ration books with them and turn them over the head of the school.

The parents of such students should give attention to this in order that these young people may avoid inconvenience, since the heads of all boarding schools are required by law to demand that these sugar coupon books be deposited with the school by all boarding students. The books will be retained by the school except when the student leaves the school to be away for a period of one week or more.

Local Boards Must Classify All Registrants Who Become 20 Years of Age

State headquarters of selective service urged the local boards today to classify all registrants as they became twenty years of age and subject to selection. They were also urged to continue the classification and reclassification of all registrants with dependents so that those single registrants with collateral dependents would be selected first. Following the selection of this group in all local boards will be the group with wives only as dependents. Lt. Colonel Lawrence W. Long, State Director, stated, "Most of the local boards are now completing the selection of all single registrants with or without dependents. It is anticipated that the calls for October, November, and December, will be met with registrants who are married with wives only."

The number of registrants selected, as well as the urgent demand for military manpower, will determine when the group in category four—registrants with wives and children with whom they maintain a bona-fide family relationship—will be used, but it is anticipated that this group will be used about January under our present anticipated needs.

The state director urged that every registrant who is now in class III-A, avail himself of the opportunity to enter the Volunteer Officer Candidate School. As these registrants are needed for induction, they will be classified by the local boards into class II or I, then the Volunteer Officer Candidate School is forever lost to them. Each registrant now classified in Class III-A is urged to consult his local board clerk for information in regard to this school. Prompt action now should result in a commission in the next few months. Inaction should result in selection as a private within the next few months.

LUCIEN CARMICHAEL ON VISIT HOME

Has Been in Merchant Marine Service For Several Years

The eyes of the people of this country are today directed to men who are wearing the uniform of their country's armed services, and little thought is given to many other men who are giving their service to their country carrying the supplies and equipment of war to our troops. These men trained in the Merchant Marine and sailing the High Seas never knowing when a torpedo would send them to the bottom of the ocean, giving their service to their country, never giving a thought to the dangers that lie ahead.

In Bay St. Louis at the present time is young Lucien Carmichael, a former attaché of the Echo, who worked in this office for several years while attending school, and who is now an engineer on one of our merchant ships. Lucien has had many experiences, in the last few months. He was at the Echo office in the last few days talking to the Boys of some of his experiences and he has many to relate.

On April 4th, 1942 he wrote a card to Jno. D. Mollere, superintendent of the office and this card reached its destination yesterday. It was written in Australia.

Boys of this type have courage, and their feats are hidden away and never recognized by the public. It is their work which makes possible the carrying on of this war and in the end much credit will have to be given them for the winning of the war.

We sincerely hope that this young man will not encounter the sufferings that has been the lot of many others following his profession and that he may be spared to return to Bay St. Louis and be with his family and many friends.

St. Stanislaus To Register Students, 6th, 7th and 8th

The days and hours of registration for the day students of St. Stanislaus College are announced by Brother Peter, President, as follows:

And 7 P. M. to 9 P. M.

Tuesday, September 8—9:00 A. M. to 12:00 A. M.

Parents are expected to attend to the registration of their sons. Except in particular cases, pupils may not register themselves.

Parents are urged to register on time. When the quota for each grade is filled, the registration will close. Preference is naturally given to old students in good standing.

On registration the September tuition and the library fee must be paid. Then, a printed registration card is issued to each boy. No boy can be accepted in the classroom without this card.

LETTER FROM BAY ST. LOUIS BOY IN ENGLAND

The publisher of this paper is in receipt of a letter dated July 25th from Private Ernest H. Chatham, Bay St. Louis Bay who is a member of Headquarters Company 814th Engineers Aviation, from somewhere in England. It is quite interesting and we are quoting the letter in full:

"Dear Friend: I think that you will be interested to know since my last letter that I have made the voyage to England without incident and have settled down into the routine over here nicely.

I met a couple of colored boys from the Bay on the same ship I came over on but I have forgotten their names.

I am looking forward to the day when my friends and fellow soldiers from the Bay can join me over here to finish the job we have to do.

I wish that you and your family and friends are enjoying the best of health and am looking forward to the time when I can visit my beloved Gulf Coast again.

Thanking you again for copies of the Echo and with best of luck, I remain, Ernest A. Chatham.

We were indeed very glad to have heard from Ernest and we sincerely hope that his wish to return to be with us on the Gulf Coast will be fulfilled.

STANDARDIZED TRANSPORTATION

AMERICANS are used to seeing railroad freight cars carrying the insignia of lines which operate thousands of miles away. If you'll watch a freight train go by, it's entirely possible that you'll notice the names of railroads of which you've never heard.

Superficially, it may seem that there's nothing very remarkable about this. But, as a matter of fact, it's a thing that happens in very few countries beside our own—and it is the result of years of planning and building by the railroad industry.

In a great many countries standardization of railroad track gauge is unknown—and as a result, the rolling stock of one line can't use the track of another. In some countries there will be half a dozen gauges, making it necessary to go through a nightmare of reloading operations when freight must be transported long distances. In the early days in this country, a disparity in gauges existed between one section and another. Then the railroad men got together, standardized the gauge so any locomotive and any car can go anywhere in the nation, traversing the lines of a dozen or more railroads in the process.

Other railroad equipment has been similarly standardized—so that replacements and repairs can be made with maximum speed and minimum delay. The whole idea has been to simplify the mechanical operation of the lines to the limit.

One of the greatest achievements of the railroad industry lies in its long-established plan for pooling cars. A freight car, for instance, may leave the track of the line whose property it is and not return for months or years. The basic purpose is to keep every car moving and providing service, irrespective of what line it belongs to. And to make that system work, the railroads have established an amazingly efficient organization whose job it is to know where every car is, and what it is doing, at any time.

Sometime ago a Congressman who understands railroads said that no industry in all the world is doing a finer job. And that job is the consequence of generations of planning and progress by private enterprise.

NO LACK OF PATRIOTISM

THE Selective Service Act, deliberately adopted by the United States as the method of recruiting an army, represents the democratic process and should be supported by every citizen.

Local boards throughout the nation have the responsibility of selecting men for service. They serve without pay and have a responsibility that no man willingly assumes except upon the basis of service to his country.

In every county of the nation there are individual cases which the public is inclined to misjudge. This may be the source of great wrong. No person, except members of the local board, can understand the reasons that dictate the exemption of individuals.

To young men, who face future obligations of service, we say that they are entitled, in the fullest degree, to continue their normal lives until the proper authorities call them into service. While it is proper for them to volunteer if they see fit, the failure to volunteer implies no lack of patriotism.

WILLKIE'S TRIP ABROAD

EXPLAINING that Wendell L. Willkie will make a trip to Russia and the Near East as his personal representative, the President says that Mr. Willkie will tell the truth about America's war effort and explain to neutrals what an Axis victory would mean to their future.

Mr. Willkie explains that the trip was arranged on his own initiative because of his desire to become acquainted with the countries and the leaders with whom this country should cooperate more and more, both in the immediate and long range future.

The journey will require about a month. Mr. Willkie will be back sometime in October, ready to participate in the election campaigns. He has indicated that he will support only those Republican candidates who have been for an "international" foreign policy as contrasted with an "isolationist" view.

A DEBT TO BE PAID

For sheer planned brutality, the Axis leaders have proven themselves comparable to the barbarians of ancient history. In World War I there was much talk of atrocities. But many of the atrocity stories were made up out of whole cloth for purposes of propaganda. Real atrocities were scattered and relatively rare, and they were not done as a matter of governmental policy. In World War II, to the contrary, murder and rape and devastation are pursued by the Germans and the Japanese almost as a matter of routine—and that fact has been completely substantiated by reputable eyewitnesses. It makes little difference to the Gestapo whether a man is innocent or guilty, as the mass executions of hostages abundantly testifies. The Axis radio, at times, actually boasts of the wanton slaughter of non-combatants.

President Roosevelt, during the course of a recent warning to Axis officials that retribution would come when the war ends, said, "The practice of existing scores of innocent hostages in reprisal for isolated attacks on Germans in countries temporarily under the Nazi heel, revolts a world already inured to suffering and brutality. . . . Civilized people long ago adopted the basic principle that no man should be punished for the deed of another." That principle has been entirely abandoned by the Axis.

The Axis is deliberately exterminating entire populations. Hitler himself has said that the Poles must be liquidated—and, according to reports which have seeped out of Warsaw, the death rate has assumed incredible proportions, especially in the Jewish areas. Starvation is rampant in Greece, and some authorities believe that within two years, under present conditions, the Greek people will virtually disappear. Men who have escaped from Jap concentration camps in Hongkong and elsewhere, say that the Japanese are pursuing an almost identical policy. Captured soldiers and civilians alike are given almost no food. They are denied all medical supplies and attention. Sanitary conditions are literally horrible. And the people, as a result, are dying like flies.

One of the latest Axis innovations has been to raze entire villages, shoot every male resident, and send the women and children to forced labor within Germany. For every attack made on Axis officials, major or minor, dozens of innocents are executed. When a really important Axis official is killed, such as "Hangman" Heydrich of the Gestapo, the toll of slaughter runs far into the hundreds.

When the war ends, as the President has said the men responsible for this will be brought to justice. And a long list of quislings within the occupied nations who are working hand in glove with the Axis will also have to face judges appointed by the people in whose ruin and torture they have collaborated. In the meantime, Hitler's barbarous tactics have not broken the spirit of the conquered nations. To the contrary, the flame of revolt burns ever higher. Sabotage goes on. Germans are found dead in the towns and countryside of France, Greece, Holland, the Netherlands, the Balkans, etc. And in all of the occupied nations, amazingly well developed "undergrounds" exist.

The men who belong to these undergrounds are unknown. The names of many of them will never be known. Theirs is the most risky and desperate of undertakings. Every second of the day they must face the specter of death by torture. This is the highest kind of human courage. Life recently ran an article on the French underground which is especially effective. The leaders quietly and continually organize sabotage of the Nazi war effort in French factories. They print little newspapers which are widely circulated and which bring to the enslaved people news of the free world outside their borders. As part of this work, interesting "blacklist" of men and women who are marked for assassination. All of the names on that list belong to Frenchmen who have sold out to Germany. The Free French have pledged that not one of the men and women on that list will escape swift justice at the earliest possible time.

To quote the President's warning once again, "The Nazis might have learned from the last war the impossibility of breaking men's spirit by terrorism. . . . Frightfulness can never bring peace to Europe. It only sows the seeds of hatred which will one day bring fearful retribution." The patriots in the conquered, tortured nations are waiting with grim anticipation for that day.

MAINTAINING MEDICAL STANDARDS

AMERICAN medicine is doing everything in its power to meet the enormous demand of war for physicians. It is assisting the military forces in swiftly obtaining the doctors and dentists they need. As a war measure, the medical schools of the country have increased the size of their entering classes by about 10 per cent, and have adopted an accelerated program which calls for the graduation of a class every nine months. In addition, the bulk of the medical schools are now making available for military service all members of their faculties except those who are absolutely essential.

The purpose of this medical program is twofold. First, the Army and Navy must be provided with sufficient men of medicine. Second, and equally important, there must be no deterioration in the standards of medical instruction. It is obvious to anyone that a badly schooled or underschooled doctor would be a definite danger to the community in which he might practice. As a result, medical groups have insisted that the medical schools maintain their standards—and the government authorities have wisely cooperated.

A "speed up" in medical education can only go so far. There is a definite limit beyond which the time necessary for education cannot be reduced. The future welfare of this country demands the highest possible standards of medical care and service—and American medicine will see that those standards are maintained.

Over Six Million Dollars

With few exceptions executives in industry rose from the ranks of labor. Those who did not once work with their hands are rare; our business leaders came up from bench, forge and plow to take the helm and assume responsibility in management.

Under no other form of government has labor shared so large a portion of its toil as under the American system of free enterprise, a system now challenged in blood and tears by tyrants who would put labor into chains. So it has become just as necessary for management and labor to do their part for freedom as for our sons to serve on the firing line.

The dignity of labor, the freedom to work, the opportunity for individual advancement are all at stake in a contest that tries men's souls.

This is the hour of sacrifice, if ours is to continue to be "the land of the free." It is the time for a united front if ours is to endure as the "home of the brave." We shall hang together for the American system or we shall hang separately.

AMERICAN LEGION GIVES BACK CANNON FOR WAR USE

The Clement R. Bontemps Post of the American Legion has made a contribution to the Salvage Committee of an article that had become a landmark in Bay St. Louis.

On the Courthouse Lawn, for a number of years, the people of Bay St. Louis and our visitors have observed a cannon. This cannon was received by the American Legion Post of Bay St. Louis in 1924 from the United States Government. When it was shipped, through some error, it was sent to Bay Springs, Mississippi, instead of Bay St. Louis and had to be moved from that point here, and when it arrived, the total freight charges amounted to $99.76.

This gun is of German make, manufactured by the Krupp Works in Germany and was captured by an American Company near Rheims, in France, and is known as the German 155 millimeter.

The members of the Clement R. Bontemps Post of the American Legion felt that it would be well to give back to the Government this implement of war, so that it could be used in the manufacture of some modern implement of war that could be used against the Axis forces.

It has been said that the Japs are shooting our boys with the scrap iron that we sold them—it can soon be said that our enemies are going to be shot, or shot at, with the material from one of their guns of the Old War.

This move on the part of the American Legion Post is truly a patriotic one and they are to be commended for their action.

REGULATIONS ON SCHOOL BUS TIRES

Letter Of State Rationing Officer To State Superintendent of Education Explains These Regulations

Mr. J. S. Vandiver, State Superintendent of Public Education, has forwarded to us information received in a letter from Mr. John D. Wise, State Rationing Officer, in which he gives the following information upon the advice of the State Rationing Attorney in regard to the regulations governing the use of tires on school buses:

"I advise that under Section 495 (e) (2) of the Revised Tire Rationing Regulations certificates may be issued to equip school buses with new tires and tubes. Paragraph 2 of this section provides that no vehicle equipped with tires or tubes for which certificates have been granted shall be used for excursions of any character. Transportation shall be provided only from the homes of students and teachers or from regular school bus stops to the regular places of instruction. 'Regular place of instruction' has been interpreted to mean the school site proper and excludes any outside field or project work.

"This regulation is very strict and school buses cannot, under the regulations, be used for any purpose other than the transportation of students and teachers from their homes to the place of instruction proper." "We are calling attention to this important information with the hope that all bus drivers will conform to same. Transportation is indeed a most serious problem and only by the cooperation of all school people can we hope to keep our school buses running next session.

"We feel sure that Mr. Wise and his staff will continue to go the 'second mile' in trying to provide tires so that school buses can run if all school people will cooperate fully in this important matter."

CHARLIE CHAPLIN IN "THE GOLD RUSH"

To Be Shown Sunday and Monday at Ortte Theater

One of the many factors which stand out in the minds of the audience after seeing a Charlie Chaplin picture is that the film invariably closes with the Little Fellow walking away from the camera alone—his pathetically jaunty figure trudging toward the horizon—in the hope of better things to come.

So, the audience leaves the theater with a laugh on its lips but a lump in its throat, for such frustration in the case of the Little Fellow doesn't seem fair. Life never metes out to him his fair proportion of the good things he deserves. For Charlie's famous character is the symbol of all that is pathetic, god and kind in the human race.

He never rebels except at an unkindness or injustice done to some person other than himself. However, in "The Gold Rush," which is slated for its local premiere at Ortte Theater on Sunday and Monday, Charlie veers away from the usual Chaplin formula. Perhaps when Charlie was writing this particular story, he too, rebelled at life's rough treatment of the Little Fellow. At any rate, in "The Gold Rush," the popular little tramp not only gets the girl of his dreams but becomes a multi-millionaire to boot.

The story of "The Gold Rush" tells of the famous gold rush days in the Klondike where our hero suffers the rigors of cold, hunger and unbelievable hardships and nurses an aching heart all the while he goes on prospecting for the treasure hidden in the earth's surface.

Charlie appears in the role of the Lone Prospector and his supporting cast is headed by Mack Swain, Tom Murray, Henry Bergman, Malcolm Waite and Georgia Hale. Charlie himself wrote and directed "The Gold Rush" and he also composed the music which was directed by Max Terr.

The setting of "The Gold Rush" is the Alaska of the Klondike gold rush, with its dance-halls and dance-hall girls, with its miners old and young, with toughs and hangerson; with newspaper correspondents and photographers—a locale that teems with color and excitement, drama, comedy and romance.

THE County AGENTS COLUMN

Mississippi farmers growing peanuts for the first time, will profit by following approved methods of harvesting, C. C. Stone, County Agent, says.

"Experienced peanut growers use stack poles about 3 inches in diameter and 8 to 9 feet long. They are set 2 feet in the ground with two cross pieces 3 feet long nailed at least 18 inches above the ground," he reminds the growers.

Three important things to be remembered when the stack poles are used. First, cross bars from 18 to 20 inches from the ground; second, shake all dirt from the nuts before placing on the stack; third, stack plants with the nuts against the pole keeping the center of the stack higher than the edges the stack is brought to a peak at least 18 inches above the top of the pole. It is treasure hidden in the earth's surface.

Charlie appears in the role of the Lone Prospector and his supporting cast is headed by Mack Swain, Tom Murray, Henry Bergman, Malcolm Waite and Georgia Hale. Charlie himself wrote and directed "The Gold Rush" and he also composed the music which was directed by Max Terr.

The setting of "The Gold Rush" is the Alaska of the Klondike gold rush, with its dance-halls and dance-hall girls, with its miners old and young, with toughs and hangerson; with newspaper correspondents and photographers—a locale that teems with color and excitement, drama, comedy and romance.

suggested that the stack be capped with builders' paper and grass or straw to guard against water damage.

Peanuts are ready for harvest when most pods are filled and when the inside of hulls turn dark and veins show. Peanuts are plowed up when the plant is dry. Dirt is shaken from the roots and the plants are allowed to remain on the ground until the leaves wilt.

This usually takes from 3 to 4 hours. Then the peanuts are stacked. Stack poles are widely scattered over the field to avoid grouping. Large stacks are avoided. "Peanuts left in the stacks cure in about 4 to 6 weeks, depending on weather," according to experienced growers.

COUNTY OF HANCOCK

INVESTIGATING VIOLATIONS OF A REGULATIONS

Searching investigations of 80 al leged violations of OPA pe rationing regulations are u
now in Mississippi, OPA Sta forcement Attorney W. R. N reported today.

Of the total, 197 involv ing, mostly the rationing s and tires, he said, and the p der are probes of alleged p lations,

A significant feature of his rep was that the investigations includ
the extent of the involvement o the buyers of new and used tires f well as that of sellers.

"In other words," Newman ex plained, "the buyer in the instan of tires is equally as guilty and su subject to the same criminal penalti if he makes the purchase deliberat ately, knowing at the time he is violating the regulation."

Most serious aspect of the price probes, Newman said, was the dis closure of a "black market" in "doc tored" used tires that jeopardize the lives and safety of the users.

The tires, he added, were being shipped into the state from other sections of the country. Most of them are near-worthless carcasses covered with a cheap coating and grooved with hard iron.

"They appear to be tires that have been slightly used, and are sold at prices in excess of the ceiling set by OPA. Apart from the fact that the purchaser violates the regulati another hazard is indicated by re ports of complainants that tires hav had bought began to disintegrate almost at once.

Newman said his report did not include hundreds of minor complai plaints from all sections of the state, all of which were checked and adju greater percentage adjusted satisf factorily. The check revealed that practically all of these complaints were brought about by unintentional infractions of the regulation, he ad ded, but reflected the desire and willingness of housewives, in par ticular, they join actively with OPA in holding down the cost of living.

Willful and deliberate evasion of the regulations makes the violator subject to a criminal penalty of two years' imprisonment and a maximum fine of $5,000, an aggra vated crime under the law for dam ages totaling three times the am ount of an overcharge, or $50, whichever is greater.

Still another penalty is the revoca tion of the conditional license gra nted to all retailers at the time the General Maximum Price Regula tion became effective.

HOLY CROSS VILLA

For some thirty years a quota of about sixty boys of the New Or leans area have been enjoying their summer vacations at Holy Cross Villa. The Villa which is situated at 696 Beach Boulevard, Waveland, Mississippi is an ideal summer school and camp conducted by the Bro thers of Holy Cross and affiliated with Holy Cross College, New Or leans, Louisiana. The camp is un der the able and experienced direc tion of Brother Vincent, C. S. C., and is staffed by men especially trained at the University of Notre Dame to supervise and guide the moral, mental and physical devel opments of American youth. Classes in grammar and high school sub jects are part of the forenoon sched ule during the summer school ses sion. Boy interested in wood carv ing and similar crafts are encourag ed to develop these skills under an able instructor.

Besides the physical and educa tional opportunities given the boys, the camp also offers all the spiritual advantages that come with a resi dent chaplain. For fourteen years the spiritual life of the boys of Holy Cross Villa has been directed by the Reverend Andrew Schreyer, C. S.
C. The Sisters of the Presentation are in charge of the refectory and infirmary. The camp is ideally sit uated on the sea front and its build ings are scientifically constructed to make the most of the cooling breezes from the Gulf. Holy Cross Villa has much to offer: a capable and an cientific faculty; modern buildings and equipment.

Holy Cross Villa is a boys' camp that fulfills the summer dream of every real American boy. The camp has a private pier on the Gulf. This means that swimming, diving, fishing, fishing, crabbing, fishing, fish-crab-boils, and all the pleasures of sand and se make up a large part of the fun-filled program of every day. Swimming and boating are al ways under the supervision of the Brothers. The Villa's spacious grounds include a large cedar grove.
The big-game expeditions that the boys make into these shady depths would arouse the envy of a Frank Buck. If you see a brightly painted turtle creeping your way, you may assume that it was once captured by the boys of Holy Cross Villa.

The real American boy never tires of playing ball; this is the rea son for the almost constant activity on the Villa's diamond. Although the "Sottball League" with its award of silver baseballs to the members of the winning team, takes up most of the ball-playing time, the boys are always willing to accept a challenge from a local team, and

Of the total, 197 involve rationing, mostly the rationing of sugar and tires, he said, and the remainder are probes of alleged price violations.

A significant feature of his report was that the investigations include the extent of the involvement of the buyers of new and used tires as well as that of sellers.

"In other words," Newman explained, "the buyer is the instance of tires is equally as guilty and subject to the same criminal penalties, if he makes the purchase deliberately, knowing at the time he is violating the regulation."

Most serious aspect of the price probes, Newman said, was the disclosure of a "black market" in "doctored" used tires that jeopardize the lives and safety of the users.

The tires, he added, were being shipped into the state from other sections of the country. Most of them are near-worthless car tires covered with a cheap coating and grooved with a hot iron.

They appear to be tires that have been slightly used, and are sold at prices in excess of the ceiling set by OPA. Apart from the fact that the purchaser violates the regulation, another hazard is indicated by reports of complainants that tires they had bought began to disintegrate almost at once.

Newman said his report did not include hundreds of minor complaints from all sections of the state, all of which were checked and the greater percentage adjusted satisfactorily. The check revealed that practically all of these complaints were brought about by unintentional infractions of the regulation, he added, but reflected the desire and willingness of housewives, in particular, they join actively with OPA in holding down the cost of living.

Willful and deliberate evasion of the regulations makes the violator subject to a criminal penalty of two years' imprisonment and a maximum fine of $5,000, and a civil action by the complainant for damages totaling three times the amount of an overcharge, or $50, whichever is greater.

Still another penalty is the revocation of the conditional license granted to all retailers at the time the General Maximum Price Regulation became effective.

HOLY CROSS VILLA

For some thirty years a quota of about sixty boys of the New Orleans area have been enjoying their summer vacations at Holy Cross Villa. The Villa which is situated at 696 Beach Boulevard, Waveland, Mississippi is an ideal summer school and camp conducted by the Brothers of Holy Cross and affiliated with Holy Cross College, New Orleans, Louisiana. The camp is under the able and experienced direction of Brother Vincent, C. S. C., and is staffed by men especially trained at the University of Notre Dame to supervise and guide the moral, mental and physical developments of American youth. Classes in grammar and high school subjects are part of the forenoon session during the summer school session. Boy interested in wood carving and similar crafts are encouraged to develop these skills under an able instructor.

Besides the physical and educational opportunities given the boys, the camp also offers all the spiritual advantages that come with a resident chaplain. For fourteen years the spiritual life of the boys of Holy Cross Villa has been directed by the Reverend Andrew Schreyer, C. S. C. The Sisters of the Presentation are in charge of the refectory and infirmary. The camp is ideally situated on the sea front and its buildings are scientifically constructed to make the most of the cooling breezes from the Gulf. Holy Cross has much to offer: a capable and conscientious faculty; modern buildings and equipment.

Holy Cross Villa is a boys' camp that fulfills the summer dream of every real American boy. The camp has a private pier on the Gulf, this means that swimming, diving, fishing, crab-boiling, and all the pleasures of seashore and sea make up a large part of the fun-filled program of every day. Swimming and boating are always under the supervision of the Brothers. The Villa's spacious grounds include a large cedar grove. The big-game expeditions that the boys make into these shady depths would arouse the envy of a Frank Buck. If you see a brightly painted turtle creeping your way, you may assume that it was once captured by the boys of Holy Cross Villa.

The real American boy never tires of playing ball; this is the reason for the almost constant activity on the Villa's diamond. Although the "Softball League" with its upward of silver baseballs to the members of the winning team, takes up most of the ball-playing time, the boys are always willing to accept a challenge from a local team, and they always play a good game. Yes, the Holy Cross boys like baseball every bit as much as they enjoy going to Bay Saint Louis to see a movie. Ask any boy—summer at the Villa sure is fun!

Agent Notes

Home List Recommended For Menace Makers.

1. Furniture getting the hardest use in your home. Dust it daily with a soft cloth. Wax and polish thoroughly two or three times a year.
2. Check the kitchen stove. Keep clean by removal daily of burned crumbs and spilled grease. Clean all pipes, tanks, ovens and burners as need.
3. Check your heaters—you can get parts quicker now.
4. Look at your electric iron. Does it show signs of the wrong use? It should be cool when you put it away after use. And it should be put away. Is the soleplate sticky from burner starch? A little salt or paraffin wax and run over soleplate before you start to iron will fix that. Those scratches on the soleplate? They were made by ironing over zippers, snaps, hooks and eyes.
5. The linoleum should be looked over carefully. What is causing that wear can be checked. The old linoleum that is badly worn should be painted with floor enamel or porch and deck paint. If it is a new rug—get all the wrinkles out; smooth the bumps from under and apply a thin coat of clear varnish. This is especially important as there is a shortage of burlap and cork used in making linoleum.
6. Iron and steel skillets should be rubbed with non-salty lard or oil to prevent rust. Iron rust spots may be removed with scouring powder or wood ashes and kerosene.
7. With most of the metals used in ordinary household utensils on the priority list, here are some war-time hints concerning the care of kitchen utensils on hand. Leaving foods seasoned with salt in the containers longer than is necessary for cooking, or soaking utensils for some time before washing may cause pits to form in aluminum pots and pans. In all, such as soda water, causes aluminum utensils to turn dark. Soda water boiled in aluminum can also corrode it. By cooking rhubarb, tomatoes, sour milk or buttermilk in it, slightly discolored aluminum utensils may be brightened. This cooking does not spoil these foods for eating. Badly discolored aluminum may be cleaned with a cloth dipped in fine scouring powder, or with 00 steel wool. The steel wool will also remove any small particles of salt sticking to the pan. These drastic cleaning measures are seldom needed if aluminum utensils are cleaned after each using with milky soap suds, rinsed and thoroughly dried. Burnt food may be removed from tin utensils, by boiling soda and water in a pan for 3 to 5 minutes—never longer. Tin should be dried thoroughly to prevent rusting. Don't attempt to keep tin shiny—scouring takes off the thin coating of tin and leaves the metal underneath exposed to rust. Metal polishes or cleaning powders should never be used on chromium finish, for chromium is a soft metal and wears off easily. It stays shiny if wiped off with damp cloth. If needed, it may be washed with soapy water, rinsed and dried.
8. Don't shake the crumbs out of the toaster—use a brush and soft cloth. Goose sandwiches isn't the job of the toaster and can do harm. It is far better to do a big wash in two days than it is to overtax the capacity of your washing machine and make it do double duty. Remember every time you begin your wash, fill to the water line; start the motor, then wash clothes to the capacity of the washer. If your washer will never suffer from strain and fatigue.
9. It's too much to expect your father to take such things as greasy overalls and turn them out brand-spanking new. Soak such soiled overalls for a while in a good soap solution and make it easier for your washing machine to do its job. Soak all white clothes—especially towels—before you launder them. Try rubbing soap on collar and cuffs, then let them soak a bit, before you put them in the washer.
10. Wringer rolls are rubber. That means they're precious. Don't try to wring triple-thick blankets on a fire hose through them. Belt buckles, etc., will ruin them. Leave your wringer on release when finished, so the rolls can stretch and breathe. The wringer will stay alive longer.
11. You know how to frost your refrigerator. The important thing is that you do it regularly. Believe it or not, a blanket of frost in the "cold pipes" of your refrigerator keeps the cold in the pipes. As a result, your refrigerator has to work overtime to supply cold for the storage space. And that ups current bills. So defrost regularly for economy's sake. Just remember never use a knife or other sharp tool when you defrost.
12. Locate your refrigerator where it will save the most steps. Make sure it is not too close to the wall and has plenty of circulating air. Get away from heat sources like the sun, oven, radiators, steam pipes,

"TARZAN'S NEW YORK ADVENTURE" MOST THRILLING DRAMA

Picture To Be Shown At A. & G. Theater, Sunday And Monday

Intriguingly different from the former Tarzan pictures "Tarzan's New York Adventure," to be at the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday, presents the uncivilized king of the jungle battling the dangers of civilization in the midst of the roaring activities of New York. Johnny Weissmuller, Maureen O'Sullivan and Johnny Sheffield desert their jungle for civilization in what proves to be their most thrilling adventure.

Dive From Brooklyn Bridge
The story deals with the abduction of "Little Tarzan" by a circus man, bent on using him as an attraction. Weissmuller and Miss O'Sullivan start in pursuit, trail them to New York, and amid battles with circus roustabouts and police, comical experiences of the jungle man with clothes and customs of civilization, a riot in a night club, and Weissmuller's sensational dive from the Brooklyn Bridge.

Tarzan in Civilian Garb
Weissmuller presents a new Tarzan as, in civilized garb he swings on power wires, scales buildings, dives from the "big top" of a circus tent and stages other thrills. Miss O'Sullivan, as Jane, wears elaborate gowns in the New York sequences. Johnny Sheffield shows his prowess with animals, with Bull and other elephants and a circus lion act. Cheeta, the chimpanzee, provides hilarious moments both in the jungle and New York, to which place she accompanies the jungle pair.

Richard Thorpe, directed with skill. Charles Bickford plays the rascally kidnaper, Paul Kelly and Virginia Grey the aviator and his sweetheart. Chill Wills provides comedy moments and Cyrus W. Kendall, Howard Hickman, Matthew Boulton and other principals are in the cast.

County Agent Addresses Garden Club

At a recent meeting of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, Mr. Charles Stone, County Farm Agent, addressed the club on Victory Gardens and allowed time for questions by members of the club on how to plan and plant a victory garden in a small place. A motion was made and carried that the club buy a $50 government bond.

The club will sponsor a fall vegetable show and exhibits will be received from the entire county. Mr. Stone expressed the opinion that the county farmers and truck gardeners would be glad to cooperate.

Horse and Buggy Days Back Again in Waveland

THE V. E. Lizanas with Gene and V. E. Aimes (their grand-children) presented a most pleasing aspect, driving about town in a brand new buggy and a well-groomed horse. It brought back many pleasant memories to those who remembered the good old days when they too drove about leisurely in their outfit.

Miss Evelyn Sente returned to New Orleans recently from Waveland where she had been spending a month as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Duralde Claiborne and their daughter, Miss Lucie Claiborne at their summer home.

The Preston Vinet home situated on Waveland beach near Coleman avenue is noted for its colorful flowering beds. Since purchasing a lot in the rear for garage and handy entrance, this space also has been transformed into a place of beauty with rose bushes and other colorful flowers which lend a charming view from Coleman avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Norton Dickman with their daughter and son Patricia and Norton Dickman, Jr., came over last week end, planning to spend the next two weeks.

Because Rosemary Keen doesn't seem to be able to get reservations to return to New Orleans after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Forrest A. Laird and their son, Robert, Rosemary's fiancée in Maplewood, N. J., there is a possibility that she will not arrive home until two days before her future-in-laws and her friends for her wedding which takes place at 7 P. M. on September 10th at the home of her parents. Rosemary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Buckland Keen will have as her attendants her three sisters. The parties and gatherings that had been planned for the bride-elect by her friends and relatives will have to be postponed or called off.

Mrs. W. L. Prichard, formerly, Ruth Wanzel and her brother Mr. Henry L. Wanzel, both from Port Arthur, Texas, are visiting at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wanzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Victor Colson motored over here for a visit. Mrs. Colson's mother, Mrs. Hazel Dufour Lamer returned to New Orleans with them. Buddy Dufour appears a bit lonesome since Elaine moved to New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Spitzfaden and family had her sister, Mrs. T. P. Love from Gibsant, La., as a week-end visitor.

Adrian R. Hava, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hava, can feel proud that he has passed all required examinations for the Navy Air Corps. Adrian graduated from St. Stanislaus College, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

The Cook Garage reports a very good summer and from now on will have a skilled mechanic, Mr. Graham from Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Miss Marguerite Fehrenback with Miss Mamie Vullrich are visiting at the home of Mrs. Frank Bourgeois and family over the week end. A birthday party was given for Janet Fehrenback and Geraldine Bourgeois. Among other visitors to the family group were Carol Bourgeois, who spent a week with her grandmother, George Bourgeois, Jr., who has been with the family for the past week plans to return to New Orleans on Friday.

Among the recent weddings in Waveland was that of Miss Mary Bourgeois and Mr. Tom Noto. Congratulations from their friends.

Going to Picayune, Miss., on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Ladner with Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Williams.

The name given the Pete Noto's new baby is Henry Joseph. They now have two sons and four daughters.

Anna Mae Bourgeois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bourgeois left Sunday for Brooklyn School where she plans to study.

Melanie, Myrtle Mae, and Ross Bourgeois, are visitors for a week in New Orleans as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Ladner.

Visiting in New Orleans were Theresa Bordages, Catherine Bourgeois and Shirley Turcotte.

Allan Querens was a guest at the birthday party given in honor of Katherine and Harriet Laird, twin daughters of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Robert A. Laird, at the family home on Napoleon avenue.

The War Department said it will inaugurate this fall a voluntary pre-induction training program utilizing existing facilities of schools and colleges to meet present and future needs for properly trained personnel in the armed forces. Out of every 100 men inducted into the Army, about 63 are assigned to duties requiring specialized training, the Department said. The Army said it is organizing and training port battalions (composed mostly of former stevedores) for duty overseas to insure prompt handling of U. S. military equipment for forces stationed throughout the world. The Department said checks in payment of allowances to dependents of enlisted men of the Army, covering the first applications to be approved, will go out shortly after September

WITH THE FISHERMEN AND OTHER SPORTS

By KANCHU KETCHEM

BAD water from the rains of the past two weeks is just now affecting fishing in fresh water streams according to ardent fly and casting fishermen. Fishing over the week was not so hot. Some small catches were reported by the few who went after them.

It finally happened! Mr. W. S. Morrill landed that big one he has been after for so long. Mr. Morrill landed a 4 pound green trout on a fly rod over the week end. Congratulations.

A party on vacation from Dallas, Texas, composed of F. F. Skinner, Miss Maude Ryan and Miss Mazel Rowley report a catch of 6 red fish weighing from 4 to 11 1/2 pounds. They also caught some rat reds and speckled trout. The fish were caught in the Bay near Wolf river.

J. J. McConnell and son, Jimmy, made another nice catch of green trout over the week end. They landed 20.

Commercial fishermen report that red fish and speckles are being caught in outside waters.

Boy Scout Troop No. 208 under supervision of Father John Neimeyer, are on a three-day camping trip at Fenton. Besides other outdoor activities the boys spend part of their time fishing. Each year we hear some good stories from the boys about the good catches they make and the big ones that get away. Fishing with the old pole and line afford the boys much pleasure.

Commissioner H. Grady Perkins says he is trying to find time to go after the finny tribe. It is interesting to hear Grady tell of the big ones he caught in Florida last summer while on a fishing trip. Of course, Grady was doing deep sea fishing.

No reports have come in regarding soft shells and flounders. This sport is becoming a thing of the past hereabouts just at this time.

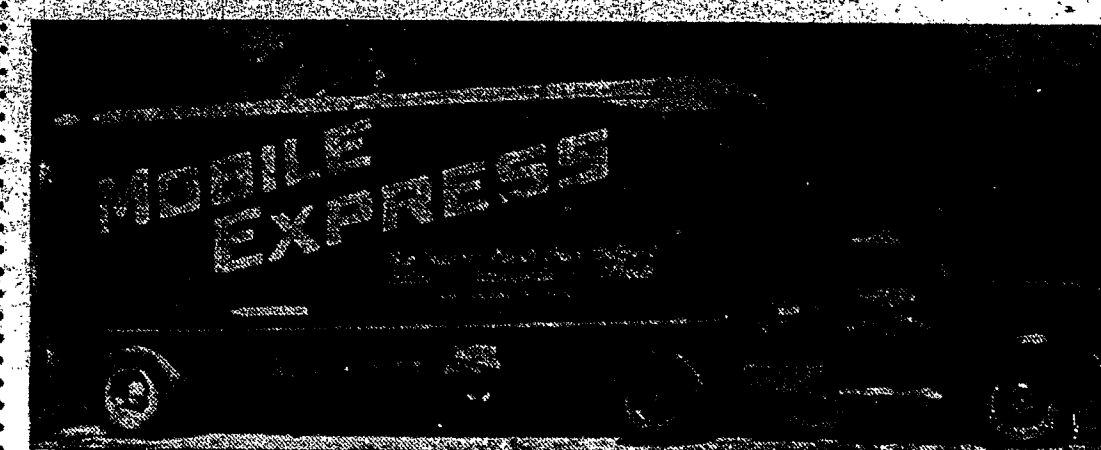

Reports say that Spanish Mackerel were being caught off Waveland and Bay reefs by Henry, Louis and Mrs. H. Chaussy and Mrs. Vaughan and daughter from Waveland.

Boiled crab parties are becoming numerous as crabs at this time are plentiful. One party said he was tired of catching them. They are now at their best.

K. W. Berry of Waveland caught four 12-inch trout.

If you have any news regarding fishing send it in. The editor of this column will be glad to receive it. News on other sports will be appreciated.

REGISTRANTS CHANGING ADDRESS

"Every registration of the selective service system is cautioned to keep the local board informed of any change in address," explained Colonel Lawrence W. Long, SIA Director.

Each employer who should be well informed of his "necessary" men and their classification is obligated to do the same when such men are released from the employment. Considerable delay and confusion may result in not informing each local board concerned, as well as embarrassment to the registrant. Those registrants who do not respond to requests of the local board are naturally classed as delinquent and reported to the United States District Attorney with a subsequent investigation by an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Elimination of a great deal of unnecessary work can be accomplished by each registrant keeping his local board informed at all times as to where he may receive notices promptly.

AT OFFICERS' SCHOOL OF W. A. A. C. S.

MISS FRANCES SCAIFE

Miss Frances Scaife, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrea Scaife of Bay St. Louis, reported to the Officers' Candidate School of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps at Des Moines, Iowa, on August 31st.

Miss Scaife is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy and Louisiana State University. She was a teacher in Bay St. Louis Public School for four years.

NUN MAKES PROFESSION

The many relatives and friends of Mrs. Andy Becker are happy to congratulate her upon the wonderful occasion of the final profession as a Sister of St. Joseph, of her daughter, Marian, known in religion as Sister Rose Marie.

Sister Rose Marie was born and raised in Bay St. Louis. As a tiny tot she was registered in the Kindergarten of dear S. J. A. and quite readily endeared herself to teachers and pupils alike. Sister Rose Marie was a member of class of '37 and was graduated from S. J. A. with high honors. From early childhood she distinguished herself by her outstanding piety, her willingness to submit to the discipline of the School and by earnest application to her studies. These qualities foreshadowed a call to a life dedicated to a closer following in the Footsteps of the Master.

Mrs. Becker deserves much praise for the manner in which she has reared her little family. Her children are indeed a credit to their loyal and devoted mother. Everyone remembers Andy's smiling face and courteous manner at the Post Office window. He is now doing noble duty for God and Country as Uncle Sam's Soldier Boy. Last, but not least, Joyce is "Blazing a Trail" at the Charity Hospital preparatory for a life spent in the cause of suffering humanity.

At present Sister Rose Marie is stationed at Mount Washington, Ohio, doing advanced work toward her degree. We wish her a hearty Godspeed. Bay Saint Louis is justly proud of the achievements of its representative family.

—Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ansley entertained at a family dinner on last Sunday at their home in Carroll avenue with their guests as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koch of New Orleans, Louis Koch of Centerville, Richard Koch of Chickasaw, Alabama; Honah and Steele Ansley completing the family circle.
